Schedule of the Dagstuhl Seminar 21351 "Universals of Linguistic Idiosyncrasy in Multilingual Computational Linguistics"

(see also the Wiki version for more details)

Monday 30 Aug
1. morning in Europe (8am to 1 pm CEST), evening in Asia-Pacific (4pm to 9pm AEST); night in the Americas (11pm -1 day to 4am PDT
   - 8:00 - 8:05 am: opening
   - 8:05-8:35 am: personal introductions (1 min. per person)
   - 8:35 - 8:50 am: Multiword expressions: typological and constructional perspectives - Introductory talk by Bill Croft (pre-recorded, no QA)
   - 8:50 - 9:00 am: Introducing group work
   - 9:00 - 10:00 am: Parallel working group sessions (3 groups)
   - 10:00 - 11:00 am: Break
   - 11:00 - 11:20 am: Multiword expressions in computational linguistics and NLP - Introductory talk by Tim Baldwin (live)
   - 11:20 - 12:20 pm: Parallel working group sessions
   - 12:20 - 12:30 pm: Short feedback from the working groups
   - 12:30 - 13:00 pm: General discussion
2. evening in Europe (5 to 10 pm CEST), night in Asia-Pacific (1am to 6am +1 day AEST); morning in the Americas (8am to 1pm PDT)
   - 5:00 - 5:05 pm: opening
   - 5:05 - 5:35 pm: personal introductions (1 min. per person)
   - 5:35 - 5:55 pm: Multiword expressions: typological and constructional perspectives - Introductory talk by Bill Croft (live)
   - 5:55 - 6:00 pm: Introducing group work
   - 6:00 - 7:00 pm: Parallel working group sessions (3 groups)
   - 7:00 - 8:00 pm: Break
   - 8:00 - 8:15 pm: Multiword expressions in computational linguistics and NLP - Introductory talk by Tim Baldwin (pre-recorded, no QA)
   - 8:15 - 9:20 pm: Parallel working group sessions (3 groups)
   - 9:20 - 9:30 pm: Short feedback from the working groups
   - 9:30 - 10:00 pm: General discussion

Tuesday 31 Aug
3. morning in Europe (8am to 1pm CEST), evening in Asia-Pacific (4pm to 9pm AEST); night in the Americas (11pm -1 day to 4am PDT)
   - 8:00 - 8:05 am: opening
   - 8:05 - 8:25 am: Principles of the UD annotation framework - Introductory talk by Joakim Nivre (live, QA)
   - 8:25 - 8:45 am: Multilingual modelling of verbal multiword expressions in the PARSEME framework - Introductory talk by Agata Savary (live, QA)

- 8:45 - 8:50 am: Introducing group work
- 8:50 - 10:00 am: Parallel working group sessions (3 groups)
- 10:00 - 11:00 am: Break
- 11:00 - 12:00 am: Parallel working group sessions (preparing the reporting for the plenary session)
- 12:00 - 12:30 pm: Reporting from the working groups
- 12:30 - 13:00 pm: Plenary discussion and future work

4. evening in Europe (5 to 10 pm CEST), night in Asia-Pacific (1am to 6am +1 day AEST); morning in the Americas (8am to 1pm PDT)
   - 5:00 - 5:05 pm: opening
   - 5:05 - 5:25 am: Principles of the UD annotation framework - Introductory talk by Joakim Nivre (pre-recorded or live, QA)
   - 5:25 - 5:45 am: Multilingual modelling of verbal multiword expressions in the PARSEME framework - Introductory talk by Agata Savary (pre-recorded or live, QA)
   - 5:45 - 5:50 pm: Introducing group work
   - 5:50 - 7:00 pm: Parallel working group sessions (3 groups)
   - 7:00 - 8:00 pm: Break
   - 8:00 - 9:00 pm: Parallel working group sessions (preparing the reporting for the plenary session)
   - 9:00 - 9:30 pm: Reporting from the working groups
   - 9:30 - 10:00 pm: Plenary discussion and future work