DBLP Advisory Board
DBLP project progress report

Marcel R. Ackermann

June 1, 2012
Fact sheet

- Statistics
  - February 29\(^{th}\), 2012: 1.9 million
  - June 1\(^{st}\), 2012: 1.993 million
  - Estimate 2012: 2.2 million (+325,000)

- Highlights
  - added over 6,000 (German) PhD theses
  - coverage of CORE A* conferences/journals
  - completion of back-issues
  - input from DBLP advisory board & surveys at Dagstuhl seminars
New logo design

- With help from profesional designer

- New* dblp logo:
Website redesign

(work in progress)

Objectives

- Lightweight design
- Extendible structure
- HTML/CSS, JavaScript optional
- Order options: by type, by year, by community (?), ...
- Integration of CompleteSearch engine
Possibilities and limitations of bibliometric analyses
May 7th, 2012 – Stefanie Haustein (FZ Jülich)

If traditional bibliometrics does not work in computer science, what is the alternative?
June 4th, 2012 – Peter van den Besselaar (VU University Amsterdam)

Pseudo-conferences, pseudo-journals, pseudo-publishers
July 16th, 2012 – Debora Weber-Wulff (HTW Berlin)
DFG Project “Smart Harvesting”

- Adaptive or learning data extraction and entity resolution (homonyms/synonyms)
- 1 new staff member in Trier
  - 2 years (TV-L 13), Ph.D. possible
  - Applications until August 15, 2012
- Project kick-off: October 2012